To Whom It May Concern:

I am informed that Steven Rosenberg has applied for membership on the San Francisco Superior Court Mediation Panel. In that regard, it is my intent to wholeheartedly endorse Mr. Rosenberg's qualifications for membership on that panel.

On two recent occasions, with respect to separate matters, Mr. Rosenberg served as mediator. Each of these matters involved difficult legal issues, and perhaps more important, divergent and emotional parties to the litigation. On each occasion, Mr. Rosenberg mediated these matters to settlement. His manner was excellent for these procedures. In particular, he exhibited a trustworthy demeanor, leading my clients and opposing parties to "come to the table" with open minds. Once the mediations commenced, Steven Rosenberg used subtle strength to achieve the ultimate goal. I have participated in a great many mediations as a civil litigator, and I must say that Mr. Rosenberg ranks among the best. Indeed, as to one of the matters described above, I truly believed that no settlement could be reached due to the nature of the parties' emotions and their divergent positions. I would suspect that most mediators would have failed. However, due to Mr. Rosenberg's attention, presence, and skills, the matter did successfully conclude.

In sum, Steven Rosenberg will prove to be a fine asset to any mediation panel.

Very truly yours,

Gary Nadler
